*Overview

- In the third quarter of fiscal 2002, ended December 31, 2001, Ricoh increased consolidated net sales 7.3% from the previous corresponding period, to ¥401.3 billion. The rise would have been 1.9% without the foreign exchange impact.

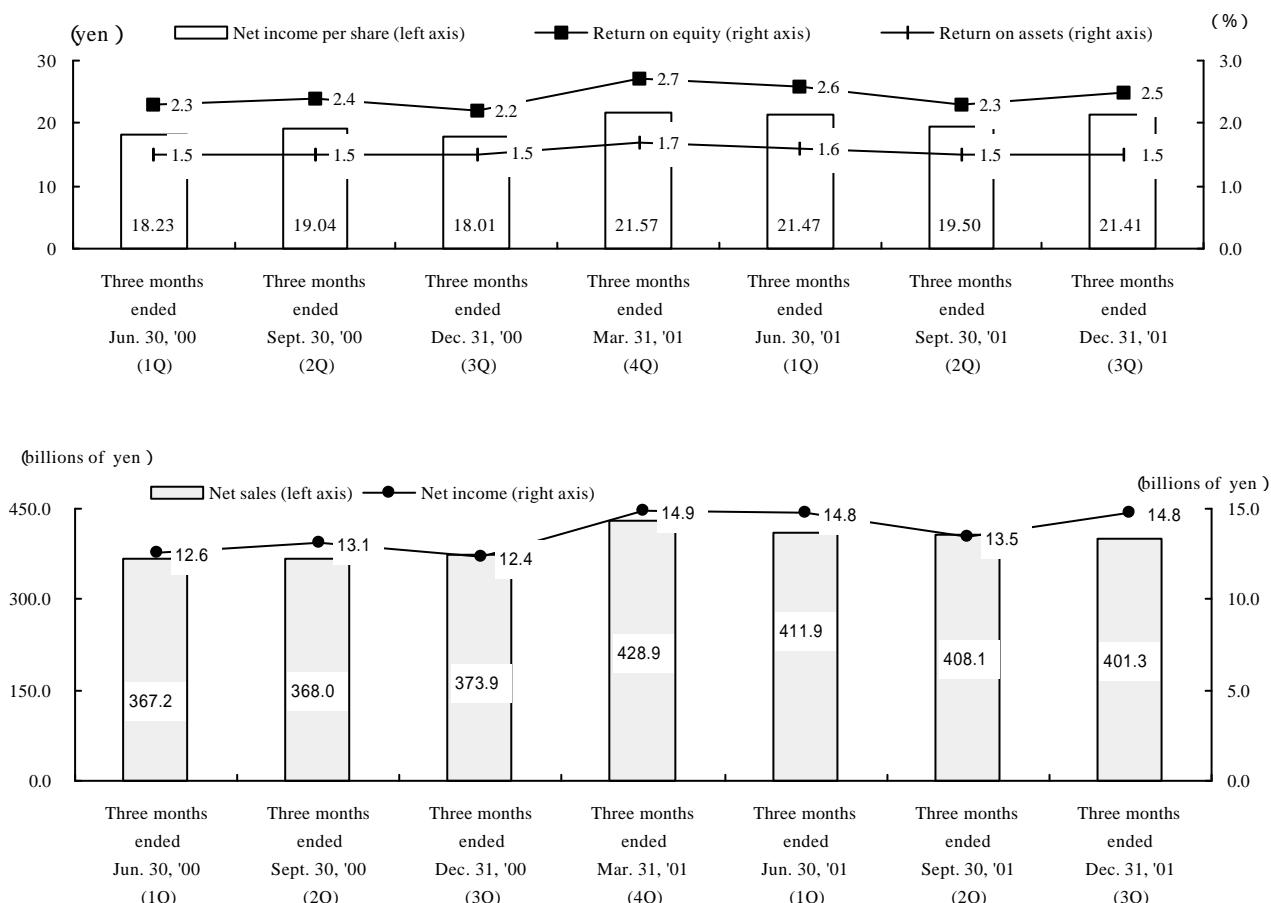

-Domestic sales declined 6.1%, reflecting a domestic economic slowdown and restrained capital expenditure on information technology among corporations. On the positive side, sales of printing systems climbed 17.1%. The prime seller in this category was multifunctional printers (MFPs), in which the Company focused on reinforcing its range and marketing. Overseas, sales surged 27.8% despite the U.S. economic downturn, reflecting the ongoing popularity of digital imaging systems, MFPs, and other office equipment, as well as the Japanese yen's depreciation. Overseas sales would have gained 14.2% without exchange rate fluctuations.

-Operating income increased 15.0% in line with higher sales of MFPs, which are high-value-added offerings, the lower Japanese yen, and strengthened cost-cutting initiatives.

-Other expenses decreased despite higher interest expense from the consolidation of Lanier Worldwide, Inc., owing to reductions in net interest expenses and improvement of foreign exchange impact. Consequently, income before income taxes advanced 12.9%.

-These factors translated into a 19.4% improvement in net income.

Consolidated Performance

*Consolidated Sales by Product Category (excluding foreign exchange impact)

Imaging Solutions (sales up 1.8%, to ¥229.2 billion)

Digital Imaging Systems (sales up 6.7%, to ¥161.9 billion)

Digital plain-paper copiers (PPCs) sold well on the strength of new offerings. In Japan, sales were down slightly owing to an aggressive shift toward MFPs, but sales continued to do well overseas.

Other Imaging Systems (sales down 8.4%, to ¥67.2 billion)

This category mainly comprises analog PPCs. Category sales dropped in line with a shift toward digital models and MFPs, which offer superior performance and expandability.

Network Input/Output Systems (sales up 12.8%, to ¥83.2 billion)

Printing Systems (sales up 17.0%, to ¥70.5 billion)

Ricoh continued to broaden its lineup and strengthen marketing to satisfy customer demand for higher speed and networking, leading to significant gains in sales of MFPs and other printers.

Other Input/Output Systems (sales off 5.7%, to ¥12.6 billion)

Category sales temporarily decreased owing to a switch to new standards in optical disc-related products.

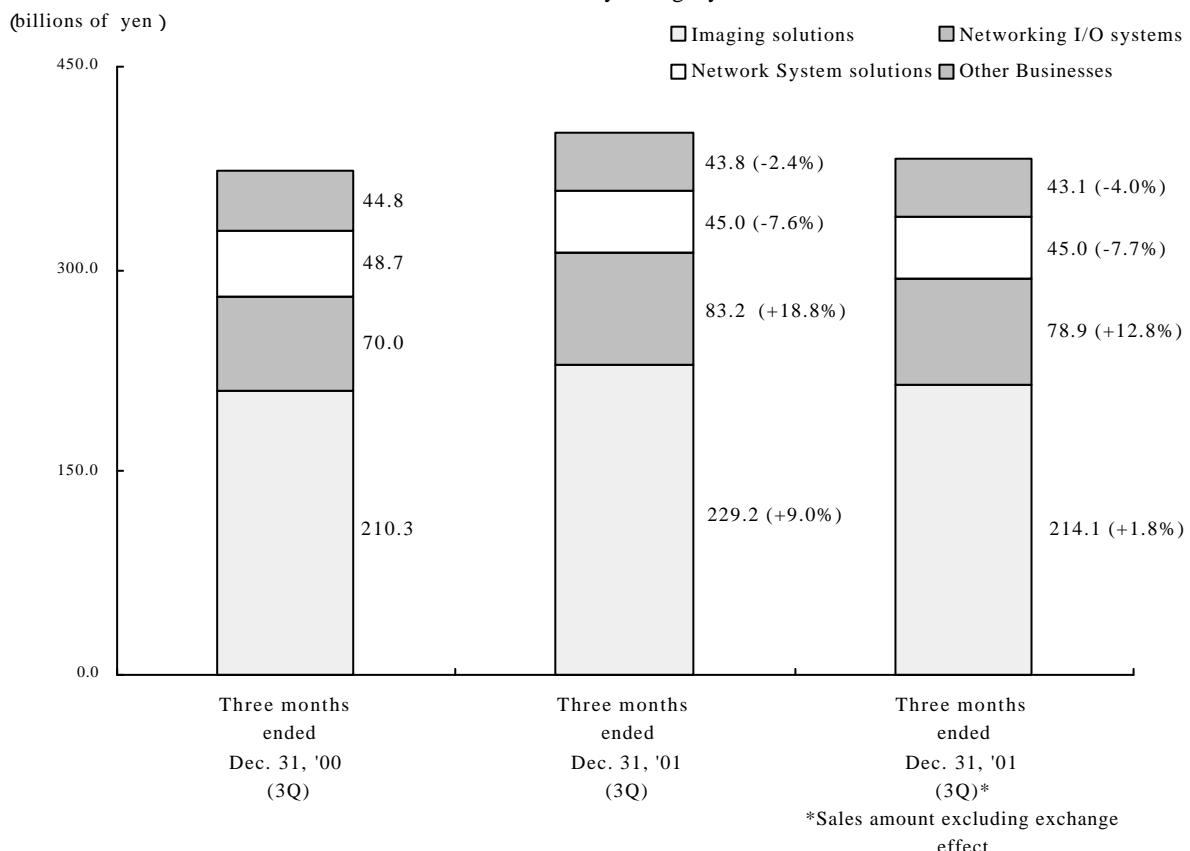

Network System Solutions (sales down 7.7%, to ¥45.0 billion)

Customer demand has gradually moved away from standalone products toward multifunctional and networked hardware, software, and services. The Company responded swiftly to this trend by bolstering such solutions business areas as useware, networkable equipment, to meet customer requirements for networks. Nonetheless, sales of network equipment in this category, including personal computers and servers, declined owing to constrained corporate spending on information technology in Japan.

Other Businesses (sales down 4.0%, to ¥43.8 billion)

Sales were off in this category mainly because of falling demand for semiconductors, particularly for large-scale integrated circuits used in mobile communications equipment. Sales of metering equipment remained sluggish, reflecting stagnant demand period.

Consolidated Sales by Category

* Consolidated Sales by Geographic Area (excluding foreign exchange impact)

Japan (sales up 6.1%, to ¥211.7 billion)

The Japanese economy continued to slow down during the term, prompting companies to constrain spending on information technology. Still, sales of printing systems increased 17.1% on the strength of an expanded lineup and more aggressive marketing, led by MFPs. At the same time, sales declined for such offerings as analog PPCs and facsimile machines, causing overall office equipment sales to decrease 6.3%. Sales of other businesses, including semiconductors and metering equipment, declined 5.2%.

It is crucial for Ricoh to respond quickly to the changing domestic operating environment and diversify customer demand. The Ricoh Group therefore plans to implement its domestic sales structure, build a more attractive product lineup, and improve its ability to provide customer-oriented solutions, while lowering costs.

The Americas (sales up 18.7%, to ¥82.5 billion)

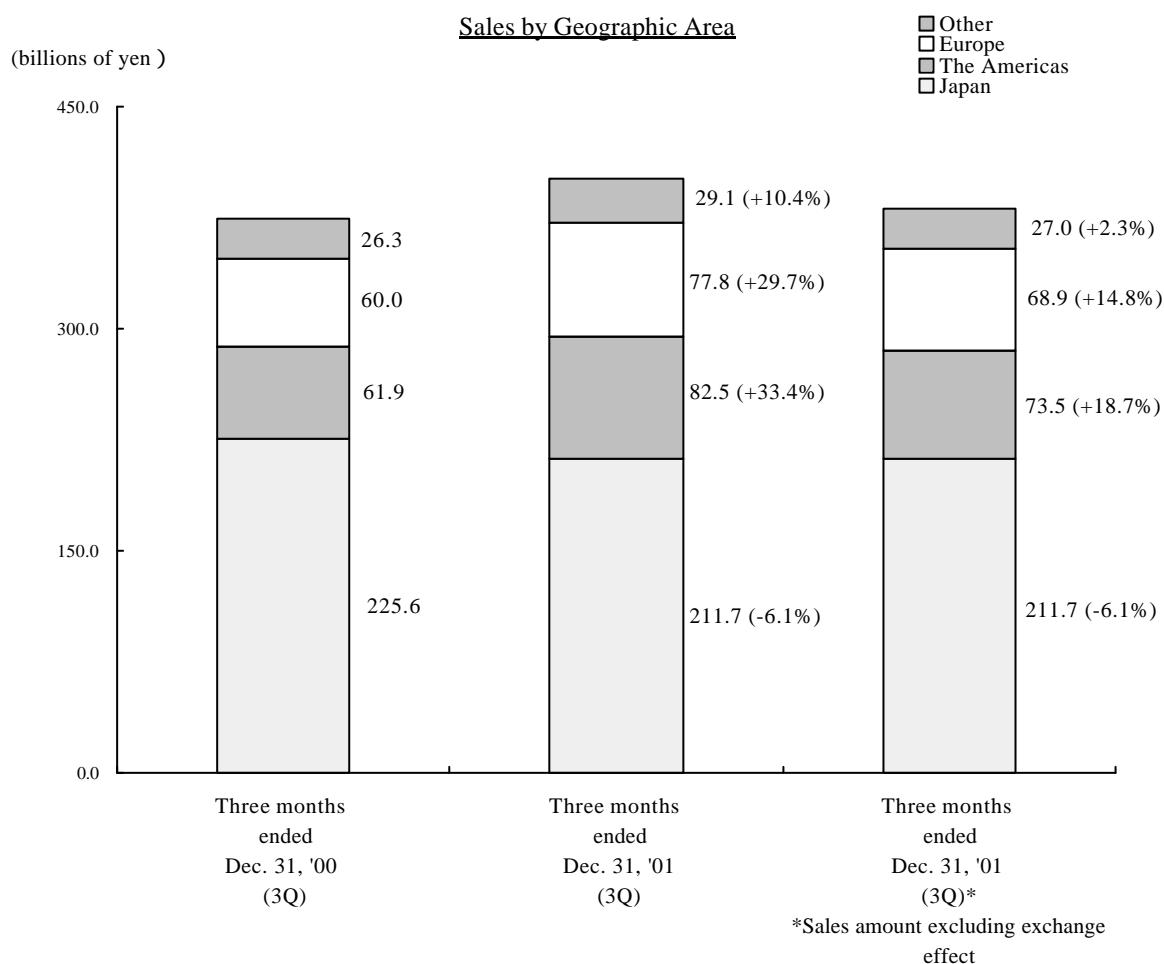

Ricoh strove to overcome the impact of the adverse U.S. economy by aggressively expanding its regional sales networks, particularly in North America and stepping up sales to large corporations. Demand for digital PPCs and MFPs was particularly strong, which led to an overall sales improvement.

Europe (sales up 14.8%, to ¥77.8 billion)

With some exceptions, regional performance was generally strong. Demand remained solid for digital PPCs and MFPs, helping Ricoh maintain its top market share. Ricoh's multibrand strategy continued to bear fruit, leading to significantly higher sales for all brands.

Other (sales up 2.3%, to ¥29.1 billion)

Sales in other areas rose in keeping with the shift from analog to digital PPCs. Ricoh plans to take advantage of China's admission to the World Trade Organization by strengthening its local sales network.

*Segment Information

Business Segment

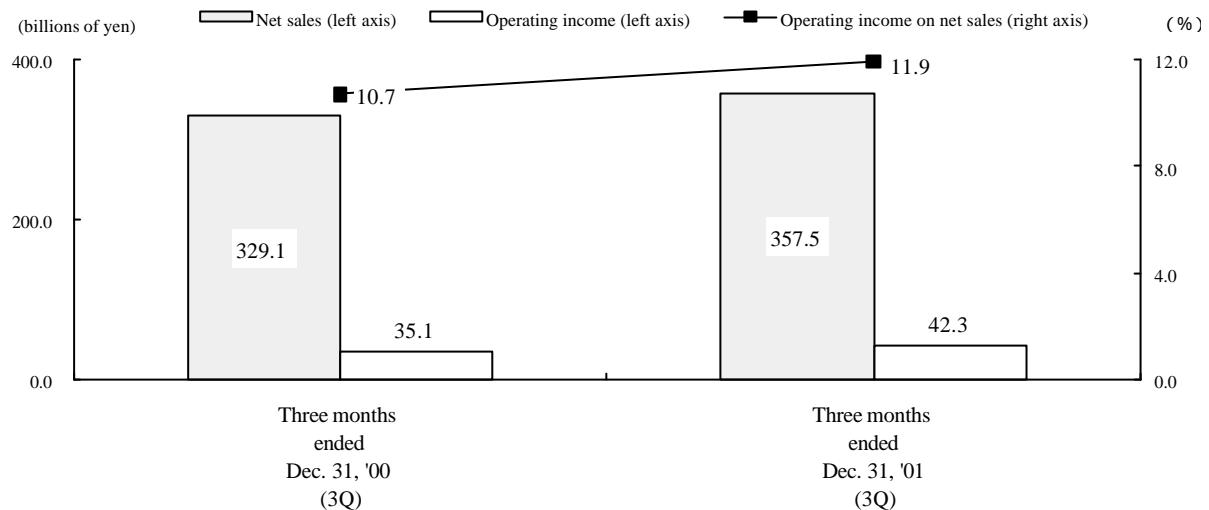

Office Equipment

Sales of MFPs grew steadily, reflecting their strong appeal, contributing significantly to earnings. Ricoh kept investing in preparation for the trend toward systems and solutions while suppressing fixed expenses to lower overall costs. Both sales and operating income rose, partly reflecting the lower yen.

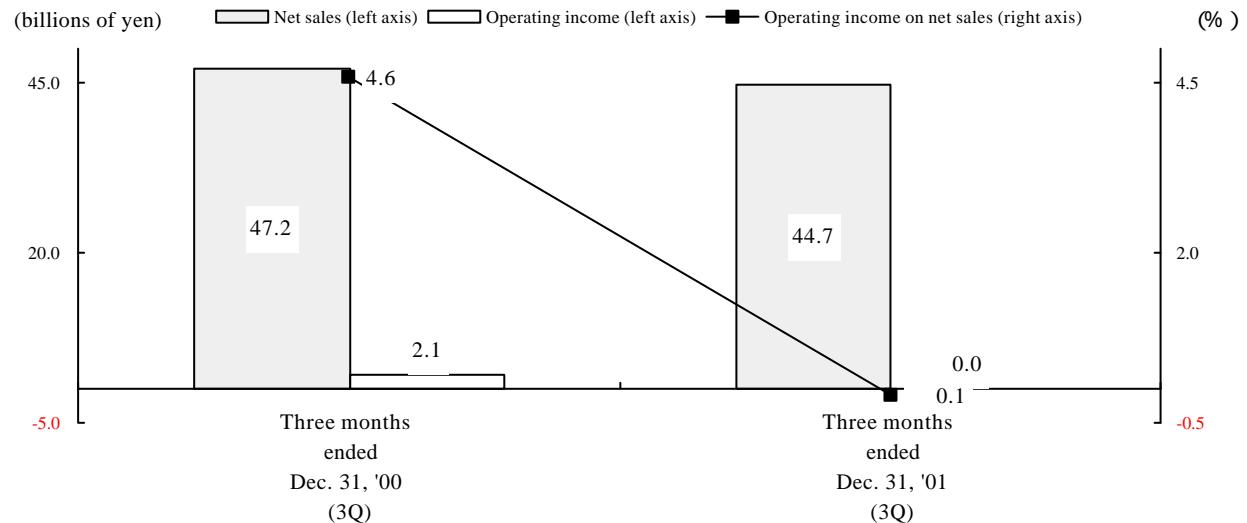

Other Businesses

Operating income in this segment declined owing to a fall in sales of semiconductors and metering equipment. The Company responded to this situation by minimizing capital investment and stepping up cost-cutting.

Business Segment(Office Equipment)

Business Segment(Other Businesses)

Geographic Segment

Japan

In contrast to decreases in sales of semiconductors and metering equipment, sales of office equipment rose on the back of exports and the yen's depreciation, leading to gains in sales and operating income.

The Americas

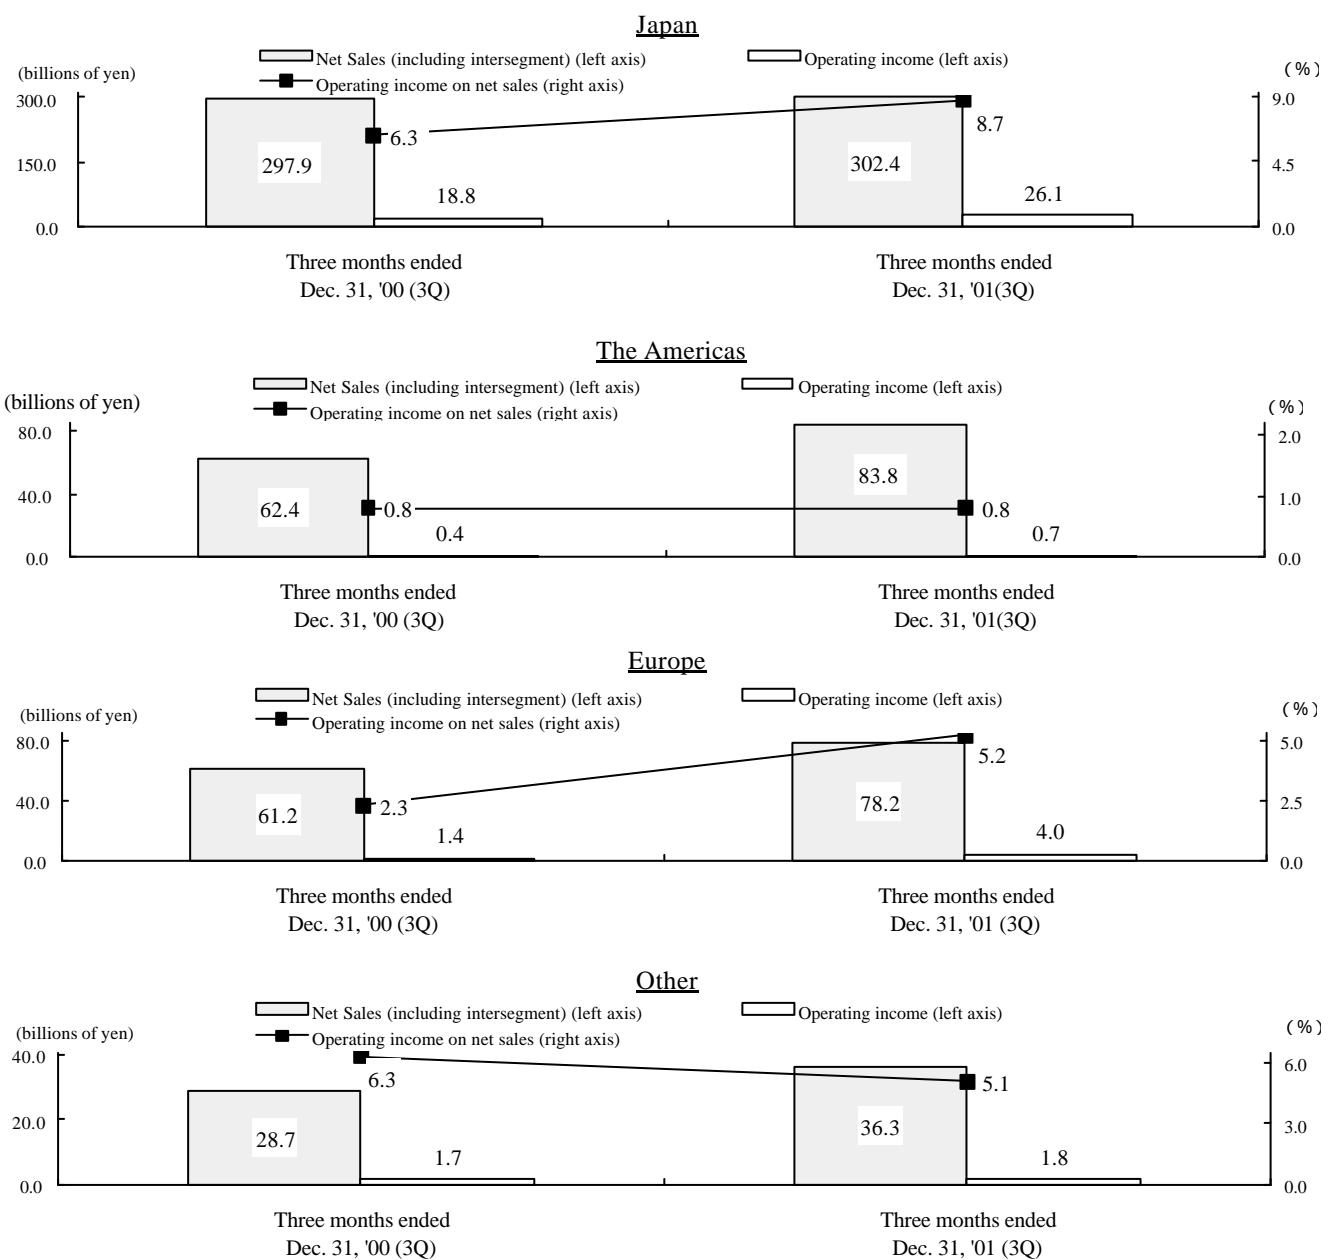

The sluggish U.S. economy hampered operations, but sales rose owing to an expanded marketing network. With initial investments in Lanier Worldwide, Inc. having run their course, the Company increased revenues and earnings by targeting large corporations while making up for lost ground in digital PPCs, thus improving segment operating income.

Europe

In recent years, Ricoh has successfully enhanced its presence in this market, enabling it to capture top shares in such mainline businesses as digital PPCs and MFPs. Sales and market share continued to grow during the period under review, leading to significantly higher regional sales and operating income.

Other

Sales and operating income expanded steadily owing to measures to strengthen marketing channels.

(2) Expectations

For the full term, Ricoh expects sales to decline in Japan as a result of the domestic recession, although overseas performance should offset that factor and lead to net sales gains. The Company projects higher net income as a result of intensive cost-cutting initiatives through its groupwide renovation activities as well as the lower Japanese yen. Ricoh has modified the assumptions and forecasts announced when releasing first-half results at the end of October 31, 2001, as follows.

Exchange Rate Assumptions for the three months ended March 31, 2002

US$1 = ¥ 128.00 (¥ 118.06 in the previous corresponding period)

Euro1 = ¥ 113.00 (¥ 108.83 in the previous corresponding period)

Exchange Rate Assumptions for the Full Fiscal Year ended March 31, 2002

US$1 = ¥ 124.00 (¥ 110.60 in previous fiscal year)

Euro1 = ¥ 109.83 (¥ 100.41 in previous fiscal year)

8. Significant Accounting Policies

1. Items relating to the scale of consolidation and the application of the equity method

Consolidated subsidiaries

14 additions, including Ricoh Chubu Company, Ltd. and Ricoh Kyusyu Company, Ltd.

5 removals, including Higashi Shizuoka Ricoh Company, Ltd.

Companies accounted for by the equity method:

5 additions, including Tohoku Ricoh (Fuzhon) Printing Products Co., Ltd.

1 removal: NRG Singapore Pte. Ltd.

2. Consolidated Accounting Policies

(1) Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Ricoh. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. Investments in affiliated companies are accounted for on the equity basis.

(2) Securities

Ricoh conforms with SFAS No.115, "Accounting for Certain Investments in Debt and Equity Securities," which requires certain investments in debt and equity securities to be classified as either held-to-maturity, trading, or available-for-sale securities. Available-for-sale are reported at fair value with unrealized gains and losses, net of related taxes, excluded from earnings and reported in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss).

The cost of the securities sold was computed based on the average cost of each security held at the time of sale.

(3) Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of average cost or market. Inventory costs include raw materials, labor and manufacturing overheads.

(4) Plant and Equipment

Depreciation of plant and equipment is computed principally by using the declining-balance method over the estimated useful lives. Most of the foreign subsidiaries have adopted the straight-line method for computing depreciation.

Certain leased buildings, machinery and equipment are accounted for as capital leases in conformity with SFAS No. 13, "Accounting for Leases."

(5) Goodwill

Ricoh has classified as goodwill the cost in excess of fair value of the net assets of major companies acquired in purchase transactions. Goodwill is being amortized on a straight-line method over the estimated periods benefited, not to exceed 20 years.

(6) Use of Estimates

Management of the Company has made a number of estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses, and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, to prepare these financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3. Notes

From fiscal 2002, Ricoh has adopted SFAS No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities," and SFAS No. 138, "Accounting for Certain Derivative Instruments and Certain Hedging Activities," an amendment of FASB Statement No. 133. These standards require all that every derivative instrument be measured at its fair value and be recorded in the consolidated balance sheets as an asset or liability.

Under the new standards, the unrealized gains of ¥ 1,864 million net of the income tax effect are deducted from other comprehensive income in the consolidated balance sheets, and a decrease to net income of ¥ 66 million are recorded in the consolidated statements of income.

Each category includes the following products:

- Digital Imaging Systems..... Digital PPCs, color PPCs, digital duplicators, facsimile machines, related supplies and services
- Other Imaging Systems..... Analog PPCs, diazo copiers, and related supplies including thermal paper, and services
- Printing Systems..... Multifunctional printers (MFPs), laser printers, related supplies, services and software
- Other Input/Output Systems..... Optical discs, systems and scanners
- Network System Solutions..... Personal computers, PC servers, network systems, network related software, and service/support
- Other Businesses Digital cameras, analog cameras, semiconductors
